

THE FIFTH COLUMN

THE CANADIAN STUDENTS JOURNAL OF ARCHITECTURE
LA REVUE CANADIENNE DES ETUDIANTS EN ARCHITECTURE

January, 1994

Dear Patron,

It is with great pleasure that we are sending you the long-awaited issue of THE FIFTH COLUMN, entitled "On the Road..." Volume 8, Number 3. Your response to our call for articles on architecture and travel was so enthusiastic that we were not able to include all of your submissions in one single issue. But, fear not... The upcoming issue will continue this theme. Thank you for your ideas and contributions.

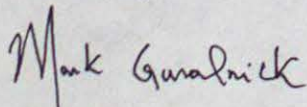

We must apologize, once again, for the delay in production. As THE FIFTH COLUMN is a student-run journal, the maintenance of a regular schedule is a difficult endeavor. We are making every effort to structure the magazine so that it will run more smoothly and regularly in the future and we anticipate publishing our next issue, "On the Road... Again" in the near future. Please note that the deadlines for submissions for the following two issues, "The Secret life of Buildings" and "I Read The Fountainhead ..." have been extended to September 1, 1994 and January 1, 1995 respectively. We look forward to contributions on these topics which are outlined on page 45 of this issue.

Due to the miracle of modern electronics, THE FIFTH COLUMN can now be contacted through e-mail, in addition to our regular mailing address. Our electronic address is 5column@chaussegrs.architecture.mcgill.ca and we hope it will be used to provide faster and more direct communication with contributors and readers.

We would also like to bring to your attention to the fact that your sponsorship expires with this issue. Please take this opportunity to renew your sponsorship now.

We value your sponsorship and hope you will continue to support THE FIFTH COLUMN in the future.

Sincerely,

Mark Guralnick
