We are happy to send you, at last, Volume 10,
Number 4 of The Fifth Column.

Publication has been delayed by the number three: three changes of location for our office, three changes of computer system, and three changes of managing editor. We regret any inconvenience that our publication delays may have caused you.

Our journal has over fifteen year history of publication; during this time. Please refer to page 2 of this issue for a list of our back issues and contact us with any questions or requests.

The Fifth Column provides important critical coverage, from a student perspective, of architecture in Montréal, across Canada, and around the world.

Thank you for helping us to ensure as wide a distribution as possible.
